"Story of the Scottish Reforma tion" this Week.

TO BE ON AN ELABORATE SCALE.

It will be Fully Equal to the Presentation of the Lather Spectacle Here Last Year. Knights of Pythias and Knights Templar Take Part-Three Presentations to be Given, the First this Evening-List of the Performers.

This evening in the Grand Opera This evening in the Grand Opera-house the first presentation of "The Socitish Reformation; or John Knox vs. Mary, Queen of Scots," will be given under the auspices of the directresses of the Home for Aged and Friend less Women. The second presentation will occur on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday afternoon there will be a matinee.

This production will no doubt draw large audiences at each performance, as the event has been looked forward to with interest for several weeks, during which the participants have been earnestly rehearsing their parts. The production is to be given on an elaborate scale, fully up to the similar production here last year of the "Martin Luther" spectacle. The following is the programme with the cast:

WORLD OF SPORT.

The Base Ball Situation Decidedly Mixed.
Failure to Secure Grounds May Knock
Out Professional Ball Here this Season. Corbett's Defy to Fitzsimmons-Other Sporting News.

The base ball situation is decidedly mixed. On Saturday it was anounced that Al. Buckenberger had disposed of his interest in the club and that the gentleman to whom he had disposed of his interest, C. J. McKee, of New Cas-tle, would dispense with the services of George Moreland, who has been slated tle, would dispense with the services of George Moreland, who has been stated as manager of the team. Moreland, it seems, has entered a vigorous objection to such a procedure and will appeal to President Power, of the Interstate league. But, really, all this is more by-play. While these sentlemen are quarreling over the ownership of the club the fact remains that the outlook for a club, no matter who owns it, is about as gloomy as possible. As is well known, Mr. W. S. Wright, general manager of the Wheeling Ruli-way Company, spent all of last week in an endeavor to secure grounds for the club, of which he was to be the principal owner. The old park, owned by Mr. Schmulbach, could not be secured and then an effort was made to get the Cilles ground across the street from the old park, but here again failure was the word. The owners of the Cilles property, it seems, have an unreasonable prejudice against ball clubs, and would not do husiness for that reason. These two sites make up the available list, with the exception of the state fair grounds, which, however, has many objectionable festures.

Mr. Wright intended yesterday to formally notify President Power of the league, that he was unable to secure grounds for the club and would have to give up the fight. When Mr. Wright igwes up there isn't much hope for a club, as outside people would not be able to do more than he did. It surely looks as though Wheeling will not see professional base hall this season. Tis a pity but 'its true.

TO ENGLAND IF NECESSARY.

Corbett will Follow Pitzsimmons and Force a Fight.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.-James J. Cor bett and company played to a packed house at the Lyceum theatre to-night.

To an Associated Press reporter Corbett said:

"I expect nothing further from Fitz-simmons. He has again shown that he does not want to fight me, never did and never will if he can help it."

In response to calls from the audience Mr. Corbett appeared before the curtain and reiterated his statements made in Chicago, to the effect that he was determined to get a match with Fitzsimmons, and pledged his word of honor that he would follow him to England if necessary in order to fight him.

BALLINGTON BOOTH

Makes His Appearance at Headquarters of the Salvation Army—What Happened a Secret—The New Commander. NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Hallington

Booth appeared at the Salvation head-quarters to-night for the first time since quarters to-night for the first time since he ceased to be commander of the army of the United States. Neither Colonel Nicol nor acting commander Eadle had been told that Booth would be at the meeting. Major Glenn, staff captain Crafts and a half dozen others, all strong supporters of the deposed commander, took a place on the pavement in front of the building about 8 o'clock. They did not wear the army uniform and did not enter the building where Colonel Eadle was conducting a meeting in the large hall.

Ballington Booth reached the building about 8 o'clock, and with his friends in waiting went to room 18, on the fourth floor. The crowd that suthered outside the building in anticipation that something was going to happen, began to cheer loudy for Booth.

Ex-Commander Booth was not attired in the army uniform, although he wore the usual military cape cost. His face was pale and showed signs of worry.

Colonel Nicol, who was to have ad-though he was in the building all the evening. As it was the crowd hissed him several times as he passed through the corridors.

Colonel Eadle was informed of the arrival of the Booths while the meeting was going on. He at once left the platform and hurried to the fourth floor after a hurried conference with Colonel Nicol. The meeting was then adjourned and the lights in the auditorium turned out. Most of the crowd waifed outside the building. The news had spread that Ballington Booth was in the building and they anxiously awalted developments.

Some of the officers of the army were summoned to the room where Ballington Booth bad sone. Among them were Brigadler Evans and Brigadler Fleiding, of Chicago; Major Stillwell, of Michigan, Ensign Taylor, Adjutant Damon and Mrs. Damon, Major Glenn and staff Cantain Crafts. A meeting took place behind closed doors. Colonel Nichol and Colonel Eadle were present for half an hour and then went to Colonel Eadle's office on the floor below.

Som after 10 o'clook word reached Col. Eadle that the Associated Press had received a dispatch from London announcing the appointment of Commissioner and Mrs. Booth-Tucker to succeed Ballington and Mrs. Booth-Tucker to reach the commissioner and Mrs. Ballington Booth and may be expected to arrive in this country with all dispatch.

Immediately effect the meeting Ballington Booth hurried from the building. He refused to make any statement of what had occurred in the meeting, as did all the others who were present. It is known that he read a long sent. It is shown that he reed to his paper.

Colones Nicol, on the departure of Ballington Booth, gave out a statement. He wald: "The charges that General Booth is opposed to the Americanism of this division of the army are absurd. The policy of the army has always been to follow the habits and customs of the country in which it was located. In France we are French, in Africa, Articans. 'All things to all men,' is one of our mottoes. I have heard of no dissension in the army. I do not think that Ballington Booth will make any trouble about turning over the property of the about turning over the property of the army. We want him so go to England and have a conference with his father before he leaves the army."

Commander Herbert Booth to-night telegraphed the Associated Press from Toronto, Onk., a denial that any of the affairs of the Salvecion Army in the United States are under his brother's place in New York. "I am, as hitherto,' he says, "directing the affairs of the army in Canada, and at present am entirely ignorant of my future appointment."

Last to-night, Ballington Booth issued the following statement:

"It was the furthest from our intention to enter into any controversy regarding our action, but certain erroneous statements having been made public, it is only right and just, both to the Colonel Nicol, on the departure of ous statements having been made pub-lic, it is only right and just, both to the movement and to ourselves, to submit s

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical lills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of seleness are not due to any actual discase, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrapot Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without dobilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the gennine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then inxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxativa then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Herbert Booth peremptorily demanded that his brother hand over the keys and property of the army."

"The best denial of this is the following quotation which we wrote down from the final episode in the discussion on Thursday last. After having said we should only have the Sunday to say farewell and they had inquired about the property and found it could be arranged at short notice, the commandant finally said:

"There are two propositions which I am empowered to place before you, first, that you withdraw your letter to London."

"We replied: 'No, we will not.'

"That you go to England of Satday," received.

We replied: 'No, except upon our

"We replied: 'No, except upon our conditions.'
"Very well,' continued Commandant Herbert, with emphasis, 'in that case all I have to say is I demand that you hand over your keys and portfolios by 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.'
"I replied: 'We shall require to have the authority of the chief of staff,' (referring to London headquarters.)
"That you can have before 10 o'clock because I am empowered to give you the alternative."
I replied: 'Then you shall have the keys and the offices by 10 o'clock to-morrow.

the only other words exchanged were 'good night.' Did silence give consent?

"Second—Col. Nicol further states:

"It is equally untrue that he ever dismissed Ballington Booth. Neither Commandant Herbert Booth nor any other officer possesses such power. That power is alone vested in the general."

"We have always understood that the power of dismissal of terriorial officers is vested in the general. But the commandant led us to believe that he and the other representatives had come fully authorized and said they were backed with a definite brief from London. Colonel Nicol said to us directly after seeing Commissioner Eva, that 'we must be prepared for the worst."

"Third—After leaving our keys upon our respective desks and vacating headquarters Friday morning at 3 o'clock, we retired for consultation, which occured later in the day in our expressing by cablegram to London that we had received our dismissal from the hands of the commandant, and that any further negotiations had closed.

"Fourth—After the above deplorable circumstances, we hereby declare on Mrs. Booth's and my own behalf, that we cannot under any conditions whatsoever accept proposals from London, nor enter again under the authority or government of international headquarters in England.

"Mrs. Booth and myself bitterly regret that we have not even had the opportunity of saying a loving farewell to our immediate staff and faithful officers—to say nothing of the thousands we still dearly love on this wide field.

"BALLINGTON BOOTH."
